Dear Mr. Banker,

This letter is written to express our appreciation for your representation of our son during his recent investigation. We strongly believe it was divine intervention when you called me that Sunday morning in early June. When all other calls to attorneys in south Texas went unanswered, you not only responded to my call to your answering service but you immediately contacted and advised us and communicated with the detective on our behalf. Your intervention that morning was crucial to everything else that occurred in the days and weeks to come.

It did not take long for us to realize that my son's life was in good hands. You listened to his story, advised both of our options and the possible result of each. Then you suggested the actions you believed to be in his best interest. Through those conversations, while we were worried sick and out of our minds with fear, you calmly provided understandable legal advice mixed with subtle suggestions that we keep our faith close to us.

As a father, throughout our ordeal, I sensed you related to my anxiety. Seeing my son, who had worked his entire life to reach his goals, so close to losing his career and so much more, was a situation that I will never get over. Your compassion was obvious but you never lost sight of what was important. You listened to my suggestions; you obliged my interventions and patiently kept us moving in the right direction. As a parent yourself, I knew you understood and empathized with the sheer terror I was experiencing. Yet you made certain my anxiety did not alter your decisions and actions.

Mr. Banker, you will remain in our thoughts and our prayers. Thank you again for your guidance and support. We wish you and your family the best always.

Sincerely,
JC
